KEYNOTE

OWN IT! - How does a 4-year-old go from having a speech impediment so severe that no one can understand him to becoming a nationwide motivational speaker? Brandon shares his journey of "owning who you are, what you want, and what holds you back." Students leave with a new sense of ownership in life and leadership and the motivation to make it happen.

WORKSHOPS

LET IT MOVE (THE DANCE WORKSHOP) - Participants learn character and leadership through ballroom dance. Positive communication, risk-taking, teamwork, goal-setting, and discipline are taught in an interactive way. Choose from swing, salsa, tango, and more!

YOUR LIFE STORY - Participants watch short clips from popular movies and are challenged with detecting the conflict, motivation, and resolution of each scene. Students are asked, “If your life is a movie, what conflict is your character going through, what’s their motivation, and how would you like to see them resolve or overcome it? This workshop helps students step outside of themselves and examine their past, present, and future in a fun and enlightening way.

THE “OWN IT” PERSONALITY TEST - Participants complete the “Own It” personality test to help them increase personal clarity. Exercises and acting out real-life situations will make students laugh and help them relate to and lead others.

LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP - Participants learn leadership skills, create a vision statement, and participate in team-building activities. Students leave with a plan of action to “Own It!” in their school!

REVIEWS

“Brandon is one of the best speakers I have ever had the pleasure to work with. He delivers a powerful message in a very student friendly manner during his keynote addresses. He is also a tremndous small group workshop presenter. If you are looking for someone who can deliver not only a message but also entertain and educate at the same time, Brandon Lee White is your guy!”

-Kyle Gordon(Illinois Student Council IASC Associate Executive Director)

“I had Brandon speak at our state conference in front of 2000 attendees, and he received a standing ovation. It can sometimes be difficult finding quality speakers who truly make a difference and are worth the money. Brandon was a fantastic choice, and his humor and emotional impact kept students captivated the entire time. He spoke on taking ownership of who you are and what you want. Brandon also gave us applicable resources and training in addition to inspiration. Students were raving about how moving his presentation was. Furthermore, he took time meeting and greeting students afterward. I recommend Brandon for any of your speaker need.”

-Matt Alley (Director of MASC/MAHS)

“Brandon’s dance workshop demonstrated risk taking and was terrific! Brandon’s instructions and demonstrations were so easy to follow. The teens and teachers loved it — didn’t feel like leadership training at all but it was! Highly recommend this program for leadership training.”
