

BIO

Author, speaker, and professional ballroom dance instructor, Brandon Lee White, has spoken to youth and adults in 45 of the 50 United States on topics including leadership, management, and character.

Brandon White started his first business at the age of 19. He went on to become a professional ballroom dance instructor and founded a youth ballroom dance program centered on personal growth and physical fitness. Brandon has been seen on TLC, Discovery Health, Fit TV, and TEDx. He is also a member of the National Speaker's Association.

Brandon has a Master's in Business as well as a double major in Business and Psychology.

At home Brandon loves spending time with his wife and friends. Together, they enjoy leading and serving in their church. Plus, Brandon can't get enough of barbecuing, sports, hunting, AND meeting new people as he travels around the country.

Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome Brandon Lee White!
